NEWS FOR VETERANS

Lenders and builders in the GI loan program should make sure that reasonably accurate tax estimates are given to veteran-buyers and reported to the Veterans Administration, VA said.

In some areas of the country, according to the agency, lenders and builders have erroneously estimated the real estate taxes and special assessments when negotiating with veteran-buyer and when submitting loan applications or loan reports to VA.

Through this practice, VA said, the veteran home-owner is faced with meeting a substantially higher monthly payment shortly after closing the loan than he originally was informed he would have to pay.

In some cases this increased payment is so much higher that, if it were known prior to approving the loan, VA would have rejected the application because of insufficient income.

The loan also might be placed in jeopardy due to the borrower's inability to meet the increased payment, VA added.

VA believes it is the duty of the lenders and builders to make accurate estimates of real estate taxes and assessments, even though the exact amounts are not known at the time the properties are sold. Accurate estimates may be obtained by making inquiry of local taxing authorities and by comparing similar properties in the locality, the VA said.

SAYS SAFETY BELTS SHOULD BE INSPECTED

Richmond, Va.. With the increasing use of automobile seat safety belts in Virginia, Captain R. B. King, State Police Safety Officer and Assistant Administrator of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee, today issued a warning that these devices are subject to deterioration through use as are any other protective devices.

"The general public feeling appears to be that once a belt is installed, it is good for the life of the car. This thinking can cause the loss of a belt's top effectiveness," he said. "Frequent inspections should be made to the fabric to insure against chafing and of the installation points to ascertain the metal is not rusting or otherwise damaged. There is a very definite need for these safeguards that they have their normal limitations."

Noting that belts are in process of installation in all state police patrol cars, he pointed out that cases had come to his attention which drastically indicated the advisability of such checks. As examples, he cited floor mountings beneath the car could be exposed to moisture and that some portion of the belt could rub against metal or other abrasive surfaces.

As a protection to the public, Section 46-312.1 of the Code of Virginia, which became effective July 1, directs the Superintendent of State Police to establish specifications for approval of all belts and methods of installation used in Virginia. After that date, it will be illegal to possess any belt not approved with the intent to sell or offer it for sale. Specification developed by the Society of Automotive Engineers has been adopted for this purpose by the State Police.

"While in no way undervaluing the advisability of installing safety belts," Captain King said in closing, "we cannot stress too strongly that the best safety device is the driver who can prevent a crash rather than minimize injury after it happens."

DANGEROUS JOB

Boise, Idaho.- To estimate a bid on a roof repaint job, Earl Jenson, a Boise contractor, climbed into the attic of the Boise public library. Jenson accidentally crashed through a skylight and landed 20 feet to the floor below. He wasn't badly hurt but he'll have to include a broken skylight in his estimate.

Homemakers Items

Beef—like cheeses, wines, and lumber—is the better for a little aging, say nutritionists at VPI.

Ordinarily, beef reaches the retail market one to two weeks after slaughter. Aged or ripened beef, however, is held under controlled temperature and humidity for a longer time. During aging, the exterior lean turns darker in color. The meat becomes more tender and juicy and develops a characteristic flavor that many people like. The extent of the change in flavor depends on the length of the ripening period.

You pay more for aged than for unaged beef because it is held longer and there is added cost for refrigeration and for loss from shrinkage and additional trimming.

Packing Tips

Much of the success of your vacation depends on your suitcase. When you plan and pack your vacation wardrobe carefully, you have started toward a pleasant trip, say home economists at VPI.

They suggest you put odd-shaped articles in the bottom layer of your suitcase. Pack shoes separately in plastic bags or shoe bags, and place them toe to heel at one end of the suitcase. At the other side place your cosmetic bag. Then roll lingeries and hose and tuck them around the edges.

Fill the center of this bottom layer with items you won't use everyday - bathing suit and cap, jewelry case, evening purse, scarves and packable hat.

Dresses and suits should make up the second layer. Place your evening and dressy clothes in first and daytime garments next. Pleat tissue paper like an accordion in the garment folds to prevent excess creasing. Fold jackets in major seam lines, and pad them with tissue.

Put articles you'll need first on the top layer - perhaps your robe, slippers, nightgown, and cardigan sweater.

You can cut pieces of cardboard to fit your suitcase and put them between the layers as you pack. Then, when you're ready to unpack, you can lift out an entire layer without rearranging the entire suitcase.

Paper Bag Tricks

To coat foods with flour, put the flour in a paper bag, add a few pieces of the food at a time and shake. The excess flour may be used to make gravy or it may be saved for another "flouring."

In the same way, doughnuts ay be "sugared" in a paper bag.

Attach a paper bag to the "delivery" end of the food chopper to catch bread and cracker crumbs, nuts, and similar foods that might otherwise scatter as they are ground.

For Mildew

If some of your leather goods have been attacked by troublesome mold spores, they're suffering from what you might call "Mildew-itis!"

VPI home economists say mildew can do severe damage, so remove it as soon as you see it. Use a cloth to apply a solution of equal parts of denatured alcohol and water. If this doesn't do the job for you, wash the article with heavy suds of neutral soap, then follow up with a wax dressing polish.

Modern Eating

In a recent study a day's meals prepared with ready-to-serve foods required about one-fourth the preparation time needed for the same meals entirely prepared at home, yet the latter meals were about one-fourth cheaper.

Fluff Mattress Pads

Mattress pads should be spanked, not ironed, or they will retain their fluffiness after washing, say VPI home economists.

If the pad is ironed, the air spaces which make it soft and absorbent will be flattened out. The cotton batting can be fluffed by beating it lightly with a yardstick, or shaking it vigorously.

To keep the cotton batting from shifting during washing, soak the pad in hot detergent water. Give a minimum of one or two minutes agitation for washing. Prinse the pad well, perhaps twice. Remove as much water as possible after the last rinsing. Dry quickly either by hanging it on the line or placing it in the dryer.

Ice Cube Tips

Garnished ice cubes can add a gay note to many fruit dirnks. Fill an ice cube tray about two-thirds full of water. Boiled water tends to make the cubes clear. After the water freezer, add an orange, lemon, or lime wedge, or a pineapple tidbit, fresh berry, cherry, or grape. Finish filling with water and freeze again.

Don't throw away that old galvanized pail just because it sprang a leak. Nail the bottom to a garage or cellar wall so the open end faces out. This makes a good holder for a coiled garden hose. It is easier to attach, and less expensive than a wooden or metal rack.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, James Thurman Gibson, who passed away twelve years ago today, July 17, 1944.
It has been twelve years ago today,
When so suddenly, dear Jimmie, you went away.
Your picture is as fresh today,
As it was yesterday,
Your memory is a keepsake with which we will never part.
Though God has you in his keeping,
We still have you in our heart.

What does it matter how long the lane,
Or whether it twines and turns, again.
We would travel it blithely the whole length through,
When sure at the end of finding you.
—Your devoted Mother, Dad, and Brothers, Chas. and Billy.

50TH. ANNIVERSARY OF VIRGINIA BEACH

More than 35 events are scheduled from June through November at Virginia Beach to celebrate that resort's 50th anniversary.

The golden jubilee at the beach coincides with expanded motel and hotel facilities that will mean more room and improved recreation for all.

New motels, following the architectural pattern of semi-tropical resorts, have sprung up all over the beach, hotels and cottages along the ocean front are spruced up for what residents hope will be a record season, acording to the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce.

Many of the nation's top bands will fill engagements at the social clubs, —Cavalier and Surf Beach— and at night spots in the resort area.

CITY LIFE KILLS DEER

Fitchburg, Mass.. A four-point 80-pound buck came to a quick end when he nonchalantly walked off a three-story roof. The three - story building is located on Main Street, which is at the foot of a slope, and the rooftop was easily accessible from a hill at the rear.

FALLOUT CLOUD could look much like this artist's conception following an attack on a target city, such as the 76 largest areas which will be assumed hit during Operation Alert, 1956 (July 20-26). Radioactive dust in the bomb's mushroom could be blown 200 miles or more downwind from the blast area, covering the countryside with radioactive material which for days could bring injury or possibly death to anyone not under cover. In rural areas, a basement, root cellar or "cyclone shelter" would be the best shield from radiation. Such a shelter should have food and water for at least seven days, and a battery-operated standard radio to receive emergency instructions from civil defense broadcasts.

NEW PROJECTS PLANNED AT WILLIAMSBURG

Williamsburg, Va.- A series of major projects to expand Colonial Williamsburg's restoration and educational activities was disclosed by President Kenneth Chorley in a report of the organization's work.

A 40-acre new information center development was begun in 1955 to provide improved information and historical educational facilities, visitor accomodations, exhibition areas, and an enlarged free transportation system.

Included in the information center will be two theatres in which a motion picture portraying Williamsburg's role in history will be presented through advanced wide screen techniques. A motor hotel of 188 units, a swimming pool, a cafeteria, and dormitories built especially to accomodate school groups are under construction in the area.

Other highlights of the year were the following:

The establishment of the Williamsburg Award as a reminder to people everywhere that "there are today, as there were yesterday, vigorous, courageous and eloquent leaders in the historic struggle of men to live free and self-respecting in a just society." Sir Winston Churchill was the first recipient of the Award, which carries an honorarium of $10,000 and a symbolic Town Crier's bell.

The visit of nearly three quarters of a million people, including visitors from 25 nations abroad.

The acquisition, on lease, of the historic Virginia Gazette site on Duke of Gloucester Street. The newspaper office is being reconstructed on its original founda... tions, duplicating the shop of William Parks, who made the Gazette on of colonial America's most influencial newspapers.

In Fashion now

Dress for your physical type. Choose clothes that flatter your figure and emphasize your coloring. Whether you're tall or short, chubby or slender, avoid the obvious.

Slouching posture won't decrease your height. Tall hats, platform shoes, and built-up hairdos will not increase your height.

Fluid, clinging fabrics literally point up a bony structure and tight fits reveal bulges. It takes an almost perfect figure to look good in fluid clinging fabrics and no one looks good if clothes fit too tight—regardless of the latest trend of some Hollywood stars.

What any lady of fashion should do is study the more subtle use of line, color and texture of clothes becoming to her build. This is a bit of advice that is always in style.

Take the latest fashion and adapt it to your own personality and body type. This is not hard to do today because modern fashion designers and industry are really doing it for you. There are hundreds of versions of all the latest hats, shoes, bags, suits, dresses, bathing suits, almost any item of clothing you can name, that, with very little trouble, it is possible to find a flatter version of any design you may desire.

To be well dressed simply means to be appropriately dressed for your appearance, for your personality and for the occasion. Not having a great deal of money to spend on clothes is no excuse for being poorly dressed. Limitless wealth and leisure are no guarantees of good taste. When you can't spend limitless money, substitute imagination and common-sense.
